Doing well by doing good
Dear P&G Alums and Friends,

2020 was a record, albeit an unprecedented year for the P&G Alumni Foundation, that required us to reach further and do even more. The COVID-19 pandemic disproportionately affected the marginalized people we serve worldwide, and in true P&G Alumni fashion, we stepped up our efforts across the globe to meet this challenge.

We awarded $100,000 in new grants to non-profits reaching four continents and five countries. We increased our donor base by 60% and engaged nearly 100 Alums to serve as Foundation Ambassadors from over 50 cities around the world. In addition, we provided added value to our Alumni Grant Partners via new connections, valuable PR, and the sharing of best practices.

Surpassing $1.3 million, our awards carefully stewarded by P&G Alumni Grant Champions, are helping women, men and families in need, find opportunities and economic paths to dignity. We remain engaged with our Grant Partners to understand the implications of the pandemic on their organizations and programming. Throughout this Impact Report, you will find inspiring examples of how our supported agencies are pivoting and continuing to make a sustainable difference in their communities. You will also meet P&G Alums whose “on the ground” commitment enables our grants to achieve more.

United by shared values of integrity and responsibility, we believe in the talent and collective power of more than 25,000 globally connected Alumni. Please, follow us on Facebook and LinkedIn and connect with fellow alums at the P&G Alumni Network Global Conference planned for November 2021.

Together, we can do even more good!

Join our growing Ambassador team to amplify our mission.

Being Innovative and Creative

Our mission of providing economic opportunity through training, business skills and entrepreneurial support to people in need has never been more critical.

When COVID-19 hit, our grant partners had to modify their plans, and in some cases delay their investments. They shifted resources, adjusted course, and innovated. We have established strong relationships with the non-profit agencies receiving our funding, and remain confident that our grants are being used to deliver solid results.

2020 Grants Doing Good

Despite the challenges of the global pandemic, our grantees continued to provide life changing training, business skills and opportunities to those they serve. Meet Yeily, Mycola and Jimmy to see how their lives have been changed for good and hear from their Alumni Grant Champions.

Cooperative for Education - Guatemala
Four out of every five girls in Guatemala’s Western Highlands are born into poverty and many never attend school. Thanks to CoEd, Yeily can focus on learning. Her literacy skills will help her to get a job earning four times more than working in the fields.

"I initially started supporting CoEd because they were helping schoolchildren in Guatemala, my country of birth. Seeing first-hand the impact a small financial contribution can make has given me great satisfaction and motivation to serve this organization further." ~ Mario Contreras, P&G Alum & Grant Champion

Freestore Foodbank's Cincinnati COOKS! - USA
Mycola took her children and left an abusive relationship. She wanted to find her passion and discovered it in culinary training through the Cincinnati COOKS! program. Two courses later, she’s driven to succeed and provide for her family. “I’m doing what I love, what I want, and it gives me peace of mind to be here,” says Mycola.

"The training and experience provided by my years at P&G have been the basis of all that I have done with the Freestore Foodbank and other organizations. What the Company teaches is the need to understand the purpose of the organization or brand and act on the best ways to make that purpose a reality.” ~ Mike Kremzar, P&G Alum & Grant Champion

Life Project 4 Youth - Philippines
During his time at Iligan City Jail in the Philippines, Jimmy felt hopeless. He didn’t think he had a future. The training he received at Life Project 4 Youth turned his life around. He learned to run a business, market products, and manage his finances. His story is one of second chances and belief in a better future.

"My years at P&G have been so important to me. I created fruitful partnerships both for P&G and NGOs. These experiences evidenced how the Corporate and Charity worlds are linked and must work together.” ~ Marie Laure Vaganay, P&G Alum & Grant Champion
Alumni Grant Champions

The inter-connection between the Foundation and our Grant Partners, are P&G Alumni who generously volunteer their experience, leadership capability and time. They are the catalyst, leveraging their knowledge and shared P&G values, to drive economic empowerment and to do well by doing good.

We celebrate and thank them for their personal endeavors as Grant Champions. Click on each Alum to learn more.

“During my P&G career, I was fortunate enough to have the opportunity to learn about the challenges and opportunities facing our low-income consumers in developing markets. Chief among them was that people want and need jobs, not handouts!”

Tom Henrich P&G Alum & Grant Champion

“I believe our multi-pillar approach of helping the cooperatives with leadership training, business start-ups, livestock, education sponsorships and health cards, is really making a significant difference in the lives and futures of those we serve.”

Foundation Contributions and Impact

Since inception, we have granted over $1.3 million to over 60 worthy charitable organizations and have raised approximately $2 million in gifts and multi-year commitments. Nearly 100% of donations go to grants, and 100% of our Foundation and Network Board members financially support the Foundation’s mission. Unlike traditional foundations, the P&G Alumni Foundation currently does not have an endowment on which to fund its activities and relies on annual contributions to carry out its mission.

In 2016, we actively began asking our Alumni to financially support the Foundation, coinciding with the establishment of our donor-advised fund at The Greater Cincinnati Foundation (GCF). The impact and financial data presented below combines the Foundation information along with that of the donor-advised fund within GCF.

We have doubled the average grants awarded over the past four years. This year we are proud to have made grants totaling $100,000 while also receiving record donations of $210,000, which is a 250% increase from 2017. This has strengthened our year end position and will enable us to do more good via grant giving in future years.

Multiplier Effect: Beyond the Grants

In Fiscal Year 2020, the Foundation moved strategically beyond our grant making to drive new connections and share best practices among our Grant Partners and their P&G Alumni Grant Champions.

Ambassadors Amplify our Mission

Driving awareness and impact, the P&G Alumni Foundation launched its inaugural Foundation Ambassadors program. This year, almost 100 ambassadors from around the world engaged with fellow alums to generate awareness and amplify our mission. From being active on social media, working on one of our many action teams, or serving as a point person in a chapter or city, there is an opportunity for you to get involved.

Foundation & Street Business School Share Best Practices

The P&G Alumni Foundation joined forces with grant recipient, Street Business School, to present a webinar, “Expanding Your Nonprofit’s Capacity during COVID-19”.

With more than 50 Grant Partners and P&G Alumni Grant Champions attending, participants were presented with best practices in communications and fundraising, and given practical examples to turn theory into practice.

Shining a Spotlight on Gender Equality

The P&G Alumni Foundation teamed up with the P&G Alumni Network’s Women’s Leadership Forum (WLF) to celebrate International Women’s Day (March 8) and shine a spotlight on gender equality.

Central to gender equality is the economic empowerment of women. When women earn, they invest in their families and give back to their communities. Many of the Foundation’s grants have helped women in need, around the world achieve financial independence, including Suneli from JoyCorps.

“I’ve seen firsthand the impact of the Women’s Leadership Forum and the Foundation elevating women to achieve greater success. Together, let’s lift up other women as we soar.” LouAnn Eckert-Lynch, WLF Advisory Board Co-Chair
P&G Alumni Foundation Board

Our Board is comprised of P&G Alumni volunteers from around the world, passionate about our mission. They use their career expertise and skills, combined with significant and diverse non-profit and philanthropic experience, to help the Foundation grow, enabling us to do more good.
